- 1 table or figure can be included.
- The author should indicate submission for 'poster or oral' or 'poster only'
- Please adopt the following structured format
  - Background/Introduction
  - Aims
  - Methods/Materials
  - Results
  - Summary/Conclusions
- The deadline for abstract submission is 2 October 2022

Abstract review

Each abstract will be reviewed and scored by all members of the BSTH board. Abstracts may be selected for oral presentation or poster presentation, depending on the score. The board will classify the abstracts based on the below mentioned criteria clinical/laboratory and basic research during the review process

Definition of clinical/laboratory and basic research for the abstract sessions

Clinical & Clinical Laboratory:

- a) Relating to the observation and treatment of actual patients rather than theoretical or laboratory studies
- b) Relating to the quality of the test results, explaining the significance of laboratory tests, evaluating new methods and studying the effectiveness of laboratory tests, used in the treatment of actual patients
- c) Epidemiological research dealing with actual patient groups

Basic & Applied Research:

- a) Investigation and analysis focused on a better or fuller understanding of a topic, phenomenon, or a basic law of nature instead of on a specific practical application of the results
- b) The research conducted to solve specific problems or to answer specific questions
- c) Research done on non-human material

Accepted abstracts will be published in the congress abstract book and possibly in the Belgian Journal of Hematology.
